Lignes directrices sur la sécurité durant la conférence

Le Centre de connaissances s'engage à offrir une conférence sécuritaire, respectueuse et inclusive.

Ces lignes directrices s'appliquent à l'ensemble des organisateur·trice·s, conférencier·ère·s et participant·e·s de la conférence, y compris les communications sur les réseaux sociaux. Aucune forme de harcèlement ou d'intimidation liée à la race, à la religion, à l'ethnicité, à la langue, à l'identité de genre, à l'orientation sexuelle, au handicap, à l'âge, à l'apparence ou à tout autre statut social ne sera tolérée.

Le harcèlement inclut, sans s'y limiter :

- L'utilisation volontaire d'un mauvais genre ou de noms d'usage abandonnés (deadnames)
- Les microagressions raciales (remarques, comportements ou gestes verbaux, comportementaux ou environnementaux, souvent banals, qui expriment un mépris ou une hostilité, comme : « Je ne comprends pas cette personne, son accent est trop fort »), et les macroagressions (gestes ou propos offensants ou discriminatoires à grande échelle)
- L'utilisation d'insultes ou de propos déshumanisants
- Les comportements perturbateurs intentionnels
- Les commentaires à caractère sexuel ou les propos harcelants
- L'intimidation
- Les menaces ou les actes de violence

Photographie et vidéographie

Nous vous informons que des photographies et des vidéos seront prises tout au long de l'événement afin de capturer l'énergie et l'enthousiasme de la conférence.

Ces images et vidéos pourront être utilisées à des fins promotionnelles, notamment sur notre site web, dans les médias sociaux, dans les rapports et dans d'autres produits de mobilisation des connaissances.

Si vous préférez ne pas apparaître sur les photos ou les vidéos, veuillez en informer un membre de notre équipe et nous veillerons à ce que vos préférences soient respectées.

Merci pour votre participation à la conférence Centre de connaissances
